

Ziebarth Disclosure Statement

Current Project Funding

Funding for the bankruptcy case file sample for Mississippi came from an American University Faculty Research Support Grant and a Mellon Grant from the AU College of Arts and Sciences and NSF Grant SES-1355742.

Funding from the University of Iowa and the AU College of Arts and Sciences and Economics Department supported collection of data from the Dun & Bradstreet Reference Book of American Business.

Computing resources were provided through an NSF Major Research Instrumentation Program Grant (BCS-1039497).

Interested Party Funding, Past Three Years

In the past three years additional funding for a national sample of bankruptcy case files has been provided by the Institute for New Economic Thinking, the Alfred P. Sloan Foundation, the National Conference of Bankruptcy Judges, and the National Science Foundation.

Access to Data

Access to the bankruptcy data was facilitated by the staff at the Atlanta Regional Branch of the National Archives and by Rebecca Warlow and Mary Rephlo in NARA administration. Research assistance from Jess Chen, Zach Duey and Megan Fasules was essential. A complete list of research assistants and funders for the national sample of bankruptcy case files is available on the project home page (<http://www.american.edu/cas/economics/bankrupt/>).

IRB

The bankruptcy data were collected at American University under IRB Protocol 12012.
