Vocational Training for Disadvantaged Youth in Colombia: A long Term Follow up

Author name: Arlen Guarín

1. I received no financial support different to that of Banco de la República for the research required to produce this article.
2. I received no financial support different to that of Banco de la República for the research required to produce this article from interest parties. The Banco de la República de Colombia has an agreement with the Ministry of Health and Social Protection (MHSP) that allows the interchange of data, but explicitly constraints the Bank from redistributing the data received from the MHSP. Anyone interested in the formal employment data can require it at the MHSP, while the Jovenes en Acción program evaluation and the SISBEN data can both be required to DNP.
3. My position as professional at the Medellín Branch of the Banco de la República does not have interests with the Jovenes en Acción program, the one under evaluation in the article.
4. I do not have close relatives or partners with interests in the Jovenes en Acción program, the one under evaluation in the article.
5. There is no party with the right to review the article prior to its circulation.

Sincerely,

Arlen Guarín
