

Disclosure Statement: Imran Rasul

AEJPol-2015-0083.R1 - Extrinsic and Intrinsic Motivations for Tax Compliance: Evidence from a Field Experiment in Germany

1. the project received financial support from the Schoeller Foundation.
2. There are no interested parties from whom I have received significant financial or in-kind support.
3. No relevant paid/unpaid positions are held at an organization whose interests relate to the article.
4. The disclosures required above apply to all of my close relatives and partner.
5. No other party had the right to review the paper prior to its circulation.
6. No potential conflict of interest exists.
7. This research project was implemented in a Church District in a metropolitan area of Bavaria, and was approved prior to implementation by the Church District's administrative board.

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read 'Imran Rasul', is placed on a light blue rectangular background.

Imran Rasul.

Professor of Economics

Department of Economics

University College London.