

Disclosure Statement

I have read the AER's Disclosure Policy. I confirm that, in respect to my co-authored paper, "Urban Public Works in Spatial Equilibrium: Experimental Evidence from Ethiopia", I have no conflict of interest and would like to disclose the following information:

When this research project started about 7 years ago, I was a researcher at an independent public research institute in Ethiopia. Currently, I am a World Bank employee and the program that this paper analyses (the Urban Productive Safety Net Program) was financed by a World Bank loan to the Government of Ethiopia. However, there is no gain to me, either professional or financial, from this paper reporting either positive or negative impacts from the program.

Please do not hesitate to contact me in case further clarification is required.
