Disclosure Statement

We have received funding for “Long-Run Effects of Incentivizing Work After Childbirth” from the U.S. Social Security Administration through the National Bureau of Economic Research as part of the SSA Disability Research Consortium. I have also received a “University Research Council Research Grant” from Southern Methodist University to travel and complete the data analysis.

The results were reviewed by the Social Security Administration to prevent any disclosure of personal information prior to dissemination of the results. This paper is exempt from IRB approval due to not being human subjects research.

I declare that I have no relevant or material financial interests that relate to the research described in the paper.

Sincerely,
