

Disclosure Statement for “Employer Concentration and Wages for Specialized Workers”

The author (Anna Thoresson) declares that she has no relevant or material financial interests that relate to the research described in this paper.

The project has been financed through Ph.D. student funding and IFAU’s general research budget. The research idea was formulated while visiting Harvard University. Financial support from the Jan Wallander and Tom Hedelius Foundation (H17-0025) was used to fund the Harvard visit.

Since the paper uses Swedish administrative data, without identifiable private information, IRB approval was not obtained for the project. The project does not use special categories of personal data (sensitive personal information), as defined by Article 9.1 in EU’s General Data Protection Regulation and is therefore not subject to approval from the Swedish Ethical Review Authority according to Swedish legislation (Law 2003:460).
