

”Credit supply shocks and prices: Evidence from Danish firms”

Disclosure statement

Gabriel Züllig

9 March 2022

I have no relevant or material financial interests that relate to the research described in this paper.

During the initial stages of the research project, I have been employed as a resident PhD student at Danmarks Nationalbank, the Danish central bank.

While conducting this research project, I have received financial support from the Swiss National Science Foundation, a government-funded private foundation.

IRB approval: Does not apply.

Yours sincerely,

Gabriel Züllig