To Whom It May Concern,

I, Helen Ho, verify the following funding sources for my and Natalia Emanuel's paper "Tripping Through Hoops: The Effect of Violating Compulsory Government Procedures":

-JPAL North America Travel Grant -JPAL North America Pilot Grant -Access to Justice Grant

I have received funding summing to $10,000 or more from the following sources:

-National Science Foundation Graduate Fellowship

-Malcolm Wiener Center for Social Policy at Harvard Kennedy School

I have received no significant financial support in the past 3 years from any interested party beyond what is noted above. I have no paid or unpaid position in any related profit or non-profit entities.

The county court had the right to review the paper to ensure we did not disclose sensitive information about their identity before release. They did not have the right to suggest any changes to content.

Regards,
