

CSWEP

Advancing the Status of Women in the Economics Profession

- Publishes an annual survey of the representation of women in economics
- Offers mentoring workshops for junior faculty, graduate students, and early-career researchers outside of academia
- Conducts programs at the AEA and at meetings of other professional associations
- Co-sponsors the summer economics fellows program
- Hosts career development webinars
- Celebrates outstanding economists who have furthered the status of women in the profession
- Publishes CSWEP News. Free newsletter subscription available at info@cswep.org

